

Even Hillary couldn't get to the top alone...

So why not let the Cawthron Trust help you reach your peak.

Apply NOW for the

Cawthron Science Leader Award

To qualify you need:

- A science background,
- To be working in a management role, and
- To be committed to integrating science and business for New Zealand's future

The successful applicant will receive an all expenses paid place on the prestigious Hillary Leadership Programme run by Exceleator: New Zealand Leadership Institute, courtesy of the Cawthron Trust.

Applications close 30 June 2009.

Cawthron - and you - taking science to new heights

More info: www.exceleator.co.nz | www.cawthron.org.nz

The Award is sponsored by the Cawthron Trust which invests in initiatives to promote and develop scientific excellence. The Trust owns Cawthron Institute which provides high quality research, advice and analytical services to support development of New Zealand's seafood industry and sustainable management of the coastal and freshwater environment.